

Sandbach Conservation Area Review

H
A
V
E

Y
O
U
R

S
A
Y

Public meeting at Sandbach
Literary Institute

12th September at 6.30pm

Exhibition at Sandbach Library
from 2nd September - 15th October

Why are we consulting you?

After many years, the Sandbach Conservation Area is being reviewed. It was first designated in 1970 and has since been extended several times, most recently in 1995. A lot has happened in the area since then and whilst much of its character is still intact, there have been some changes too. For the Conservation Area designation to be effective it is important that the protected area retains its historic and townscape interest, to warrant being included. The supporting information that explains why it is a Conservation Area, the character appraisal, also needs to be up to date to help manage change in the area. Additionally, the area needs a management plan to help shape its future character in a positive and proactive way, so that the conservation area can continue to be enjoyed by current and future townspeople and visitors.

You are receiving this flyer because you either live in or have a business premises in the Conservation Area. You have a vested interest in its future and so we want you to be part of the Conservation Area review and to help refine and shape the character appraisal and management plan. You can do this by coming to the meeting, visiting the exhibition (details on the front of this leaflet), or online. We would also encourage you to provide us with your comments either in paper form or electronically.

This is a real opportunity for you as a resident or business to be involved, so please do participate.

We look forward to your involvement

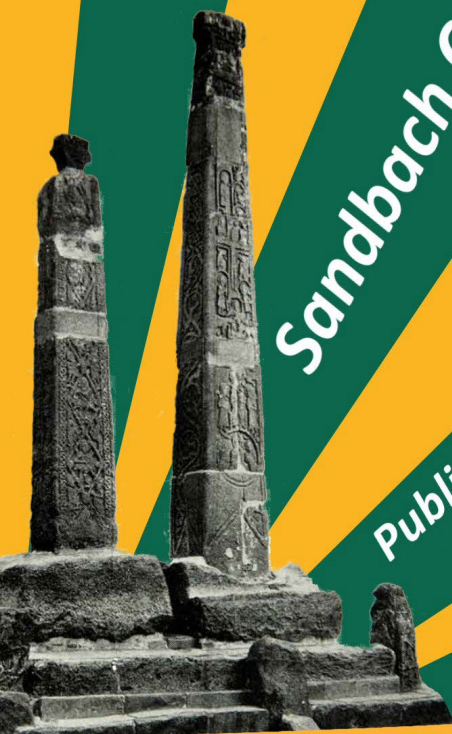

HAVE YOUR SAY

Sandbach Conservation Area Review

Public meeting at Sandbach Literary Institute
12th September at 6.30pm

Exhibition at Sandbach Library
2nd September - 15th October

Why are we consulting you?

After many years, the Sandbach Conservation Area is being reviewed. It was first designated in 1970 and has since been extended several times, most recently in 1995. A lot has happened in the area since then and whilst much of its character is still intact, there have been some changes too. For the Conservation Area designation to be effective it is important that the protected area retains its historic and townscape interest, to warrant being included. The supporting information that explains why it is a Conservation Area, the character appraisal, also needs to be up to date to help manage change in the area. Additionally, the area needs a management plan to help shape its future character in a positive and proactive way, so that the conservation area can continue to be enjoyed by current and future townspeople and visitors.

You are receiving this flyer because you either live in or have a business premises in the Conservation Area. You have a vested interest in its future and so we want you to be part of the Conservation Area review and to help refine and shape the character appraisal and management plan. You can do this by coming to the meeting, visiting the exhibition (details on the front of this leaflet), or online. We would also encourage you to provide us with your comments either in paper form or electronically.

This is a real opportunity for you as a resident or business to be involved, so please do participate.

We look forward to your involvement

Sandbach Conservation Area Review

H
A
V
E

Y
O
U

R

S
A
Y

Public meeting at Sandbach
Literary Institute

12th September at 6.30pm

Exhibition at Sandbach Library
from 2nd September - 15th October

HAVE YOUR SAY

Sandbach Conservation Area Review

Public meeting at Sandbach Literary Institute
12th September at 6.30pm

Exhibition at Sandbach Library
2nd September - 15th October

