Contraceptive and sexual health services review findings and recommendations

Recently released (Feb 2010) ONS 2008 data for CEC shows a 9.1 decrease in under-18 conception rates since 1998. Since the 1998 baseline there has been a decrease in the areas of deprivation (-10%), however little progress in Macclesfield (-1.3%) and a sharp increase in conceptions in Congleton (20.8%). Worryingly, the rates in Congleton are one of the highest rates in the region. The termination rates have increased by approximately 10%, which are well above the national and regional averages.

2008 Quarterly data

Contraceptive audit findings

The chart below reflects the breakdown in funding on contraceptive and abortion services in Central & Eastern Cheshire. The figures did not include the spend on contraception provided through GU services at Mid-Cheshire Hospitals Trust (see below).

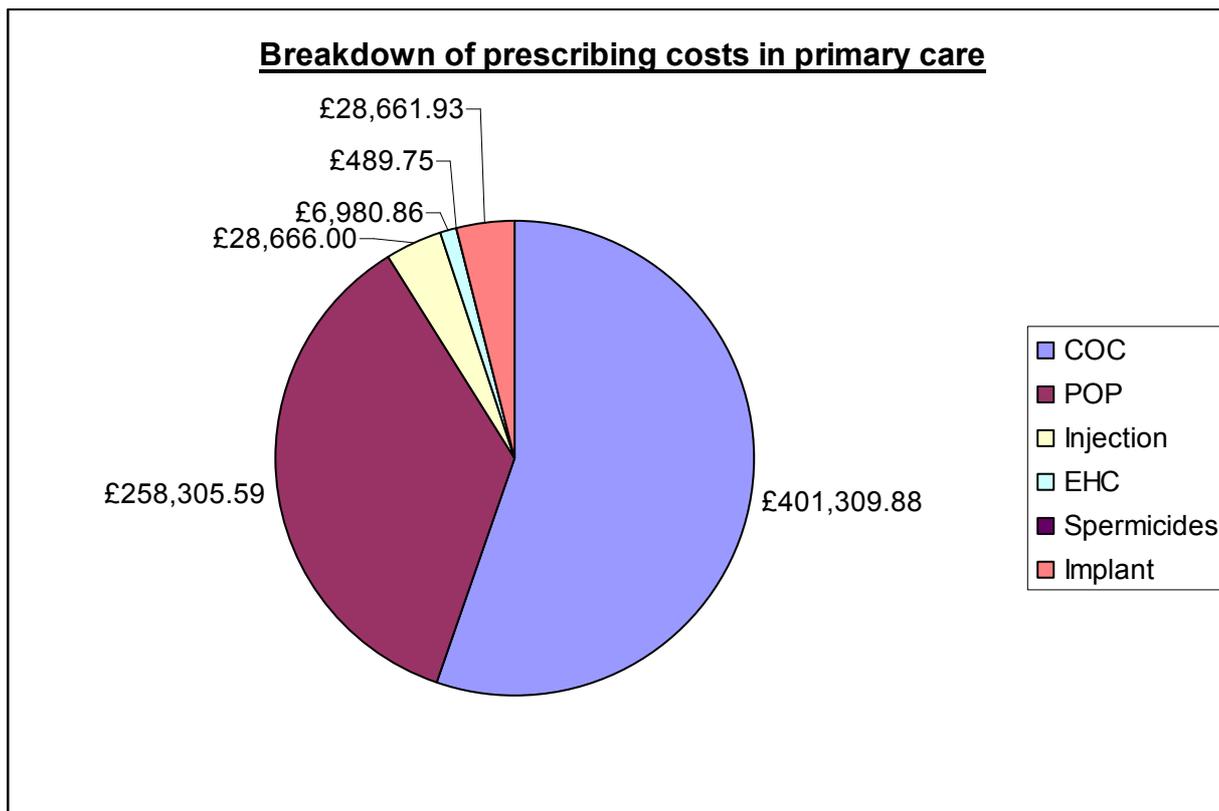

It is also noted from the audit that there is no identified budget for sexual health promotion.

Breaking this cost down further, staff costs in CaSH represent £632,002 of the total (over 75%). However, the point to be made here is that this is for a whole time equivalent of 15.85, split between 80 posts. 37 of these are band 6 nurses, adding up to a whole time equivalent of 3.92. This is a far from unusual pattern for traditional community contraceptive services, but is a key factor in the structural difficulties encountered in operational management, service and staff development, quality assurance, consistency of delivery and governance. Many areas are moving away from this model as part of service modernisation and reconfiguration.

In terms of the contraception provided by the CaSH service, LARC methods account for 17.6% of methods provided at first visit<sup>1</sup>. This is only slightly less than a national average of 18%. However, this is across all ages. LARC accounts for just over 9% of under 18s first visits. Under 18s represent 18% of first visits at CaSH; 29% 18-24s and 53% 25 and older.

The chart above shows primary care prescribing costs of over £400k in 2008-09 on the combined oral contraceptive pill alone, across all ages. This equates to 46704 prescriptions. If an approximation is made based on the assumption that a woman would have four COC prescriptions a year, this roughly represents 11676 women. Real use failure rates in contraception<sup>2</sup> suggest 8% failure in COC (as opposed to less than 0.1% in all LARC methods). This would indicate around 934 conceptions arising from contraceptive failure. If half of these were to be terminated, at an approximate cost of £500 per procedure, this would cost the PCT a further £233,500.

Prescribing rates against national averages

	Rate per 1000 females 15-44
	C&E Cheshire	England
All LARC methods	39	41.4
Implant	7.1	7.2
IUD/S	11.8	13.9
Depo	20.1	20.4

The table above shows that prescribing rates in Central & Eastern Cheshire are lower than national average; it would be useful to break these figures down further by age, which is not currently possible through data available at regional or national level. This could be done locally as part of further mapping of contraception uptake.
