

I think there has been from the pub childish behaviour to annoy because of people complaining e.g. - turning up music after 11.0pm so that it is obvious.

Also the noise from the back of the pub, which the upper rooms of my house can see, after closing gets worse - Also I have observed fighting along the row of houses in the lane.

I think the building should have to keep windows and doors closed because surely the Pincere applies to inside ~~to~~ not to outside

The outside seating makes walking past uncomfortable and Welsh Row is special to Nantwich and the towns income as a tourist venue and visitors especially walking from the canal have to walk past rough, tough falls outside and it spoils the beauty we are trying to sell to visitors to our lovely but endangered town

The pub may say they have changed but what about the customers I fear the style they create will not change overnight, maybe someone when they decide these things could visit the people most affected !!!
