48 FEEDBACK ON QUALITY ACCOUNTS: MID CHESHIRE HOSPITALS NHS FOUNDATION TRUST

Councillor Rachel Bailey joined the meeting.

Sally Mann, Deputy Director of Nursing at Mid Cheshire NHS Foundation
Trust and Oliver Bennett, Chief Operating Officer at Mid Cheshire NHS Foundation Trust attended the Committee and provided a presentation on the Quality Account.

The Committee noted that:

- waves two and three of the Covid-19 Pandemic were difficult for the NHS, not as much was achieved as was hoped but the top priority was the quality of care and safety;
- feedback obtained from patients through NHS Choices showed that 78% had positive experiences as opposed to 22% negative;
- with regard to Never Events (the kind of mistake (medical error) that should never happen) Mid Cheshire Hospital reported 3 events, no patients had been harmed and they all occurred in theatres. Out of 1299 deaths it was reported that one could have been avoided;

- There had been a 70.4% compliance with Sepsis Pathway which met the target; and
- An anomaly had been uncovered in respect of measuring postpartum haemorrhaging this had been rectified and Mid Cheshire Hospital were no longer considered an outlier.

The Committee were invited to ask questions and there was some discussion that included:

- There was a query about why Covid vaccinations had dropped from 93%, to 91% and then 71% with the booster. The Deputy Director of Nursing noted that the figure was improving;
- The Committee noted that Mid Cheshire Hospital had analysed data and there had been no cases of MRSA, this was deemed to be because there were no instances of norovirus, flu, or the normal infections for that time of the year. People were wearing PPE and in a super-heightened awareness of infection control;
- In terms of recruitment, it was acknowledged that recruitment and retention of staff was a challenge, particularly where there had been a reliance on international nurses. The need for a diverse workforce was known, and the Committee were advised that Chester and Keale were the main areas locally for recruitment of student nurses. Registered Nursing did not experience any drop in applications for employment, however there were issues attracting health care support workers. During the pandemic, the availability of furlough and the opportunities of better paid jobs outside of health care meant that many did not return to the profession. Where Mid Cheshire Hospital would have expected to receive 100 job applications in the past, that figure now reaches 29.
- Sickness levels dropped to 6% during the pandemic, when they could have risen to 30%;
- The Committee were particularly interested in the issue relating to de-brief appointments and how can capacity could be created, the Deputy Director of Nursing agreed to take this action back to the Head of Midwifery to get a full answer to the Committee;
- The national expectation for priority and key national priority was for no patient to wait more than 2-years for treatment, there were none of these patients at Mid-Cheshire and the focus was now on cancer patients;
- The maintained standard of ambulance handovers in Mid Cheshire, the new Accident and Emergency department at Leighton Hospital, and the investment into Northwich Infirmary;
- Reassurances that where avoidable patient deaths occurred, the hospital work with the families first before any further investigations were completed.

RESOLVED:

That the Quality Account be received and noted and any further comments by this Committee (to those already made) be submitted to Mid Cheshire Hospital.

49 UPDATE FROM THE POLICE AND CRIME COMMISSIONER

John Dwyer, Police and Crime Commissioner (PCC) for Cheshire attended the meeting and gave a verbal update to the Committee.

For the purposes of transparency, the PCC noted that the PCC Panel is the only scrutiny panel for the Commissioner and that the update today was an overview that reflected the needs of the residents in Cheshire, in line with this Committees statutory Crime and Disorder obligation.

The PCC advised that his manifesto was drawn up during his campaigning and he then worked with the Police to determine how to deliver it against the budget.

Priorities included increasing the Police force by 20,000 across England and Wales, the core-handing of 101 non-emergency calls moving from between 40mins-1hour to 6 minutes following investment in the Control Force room.

The National Crime Agency estimated there were 700,000 active paedophiles online, there was a need to accept and understand the cyber world needed to be policed particularly with areas such as bank account fraud etc. The PCC noted that modern policing was not all about Police on the streets.

The Committee were advised that there was Police and Crime Plan with an audio version available online, and sign language versions availability. 20,000 consultation responses have been fed into the new plan for 2023, following 520,000 household audits asking what future policing needs were.

£8million had been secured for Safer Streets. This initiative used technology for those vulnerable on the streets or at home. When calling 999 from a smart phone the operator would send a link to phone and link via video to the caller whilst deploying resources to help.

The PCC gave the opportunity to invite questions from the Committee.

There were some anecdotal points raised about Police Community Safety Officers (PCSOs) in specific areas of Macclesfield not being replaced, and information on the Police website not removing PCSOs that had vacated the post. The PCC advised the best route to take was to contact his office. The Safer Streets campaign had been televised on Northwest tonight and throughout the media but the PCC agreed to speak to his communications team to circulate information more widely.

There was praise by the committee for the Rural Crime Squad. The Committee felt that it was an achievement that should be more widely publicised to move from 60mins to 6mins on the answering time for 101 calls and that it was recognised that a non-emergency could still escalate into an emergency.

The PCC acknowledged the Cost of Living Crisis and the potential impact to residents as a priority for the Police.

On the subject of carbon neutrality, the PCC acknowledged that there was no right answer and that his priority was to reduce costs but he had a team reviewing options for the Police to be carbon neutral by 2040.

John- yes will support road safety initiatives. Would love to double that number, not going to happen- governed by government who provide figures and 60% of budget.

Government are now looking at a new funding formula. Happy that we have fair share of officers promised in 2019.

The Committee flagged the impact on Policing as a result of Cheshire East Council policies- such as the winter gritting policy. The PCC was not aware of a negative impact but noted that if gritting isn't happening as it used to, then collisions could be a risk.

The PCC summarised by stating that his attendance at the Committee had been useful and he encouraged a close working relationship with Members to ensure best outcome for residents.

RESOLVED:

That the update by the PCC be received and noted.

Councillor Rachel Bailey left the meeting.

50 SAFER CHESHIRE EAST PARTNERSHIP (SCEP) UPDATE

Jill Broomhall, Director of Adult Social Care and Chair of Safer Cheshire East Partnership (SCEP) Board, presented an update to the Committee, it had been 12-months since the last update. Salient points included:

- The SCEP Board (formed under the Crime and Disorder Act), included representation from the Council, Police, Fire, Youth Offending, and received funded by Police and Crime Commissioner (£185k per annum);
- SCEP produced strategic intelligence assessment and looked at emerging threats and risks;
- Sandra Murphy, Head of Adult Safeguarding advised the Committee on how safeguarding linked into SCEP and trying to address criminality;

- The Complex Safeguarding Forum was formed in May 2021, met every 6-weeks and met those who were reluctant to engage with services. Learning was taken away from each meeting and there were links to other councils to share best practice;
- Domestic Abuse Services, was a theme that was cross-cutting across partnership agendas. SCEP dealt with Domestic Homicide reviews, there had been an unprecedented amount of referrals but also to Adult Safeguarding Board for reviews. The Partnership understood this could be due to lockdown pressures, understanding of reporting mechanisms but that learning where issues could have been avoided takes place;
- SCEP had a safeguarding duty under the prevent legislation to those vulnerable to radicalisation. SCEP received referrals from across spectrum, however there were more from schools than adults;
- The PREVENT Board had been developed. It had met once and had the aim to raise awareness with agencies who don't normally sit around the table;
- SCEP had developed a Multi-Agency operational Group, to improve outcomes for families from Gypsy and Traveller communities;
- There was a negative perception of the Council by Gypsy and Roma Travellers and the work being done to address that such as updates to the website to focus on access to services to help with illegal encampments;
- Working in partnership with both children and adult safeguarding board to tackle exploitation;
- The Priority of County Lines across Liverpool and Manchester;
- Domestic Abuse had been a big agenda since the death of Sarah Everett, the Home Office were invested in violence against women and girls. A consultation in Cheshire East had showed women and girls felt unsafe in some areas of the borough;
- Across Cheshire East four hotels had been stood-up for asylum seekers. There were risks associated and safeguarding treatment with those families; and
- The links from the Police and Crime Commissioner Plan the links back to SCEP.

The item was opened up for questions and there was some discussion that included:

- The plans Cheshire East had to integrate Asylum Seekers at the Chimney House Hotel into the community. The Committee were advised that whilst there were still people leaving Afghanistan, the hotel is still stood-up, however some people had moved across the country to live with relatives. Some funding was received to the council from the Home Office. Many of the Asylum Seekers had worked with the British and needed to be moved out of the country, and also Ukrainians displaced with the war; and

- The Committee noted that when an Asylum Seeker achieved refugee status, at that point they can work in the UK;
- the Committee noted the success of a recent Gypsy and Traveller (G&T) Event, it was noted Members requested more information, knowledge and information to help support officers when dealing with the G&T community;
- The impacts of Domestic Abuse when incidents remained underreported. Richard Christopherson, Local Area Partnership Manager noted that sometimes measures were not possible for example Cyber Crime, where this issue was more about raising awareness and warning. The Prevent agenda (safeguarding and supporting those vulnerable to radicalisation) was measurable.

RESOLVED: That:

- a) the Safer Cheshire East Partnership (SCEP) Update be received and noted; and
- b) the Crime and Disorder items discussed by the Committee be added to the Work Programme.
